

Guide of Marinas in Greece

Greece is a country blessed with 16.000 km of coast-line and more than 420 islands. Her idyllic climate and friendly seas make this country an ideal destination for yachting and water sports of all kinds.

The Greek Marinas Association (G.M.A.) was established in 2010 in order to represent, upgrade and promote the tourist ports and marina facilities throughout the country. GMA membership includes 77% of the total regional berthing capacity, having as members both public and private, well organized marinas that focus on Quality, Safety and customer satisfaction. GMA's main mission is the change and improvement of the national context of development, operation and exploitation of tourist ports.

Greek marinas are the essential infrastructure for the yachting networks and the key factor for Sea Tourism development in Greece.

This leaflet is a guide of the GMA membership. It is divided in geographical sections with basic information about each marina.

Leros Marina, Evros S.A. was established in 1989, when the rocky land overlooking beautiful Lakki harbor was acquired. From this private land a new yacht harbor has been created opposite the main port of Lakki. It was the first Marina and storage ashore in South East Aegean Greek waters. Leros is one of the Dodecanese islands, a wonderful cruising destination for yachts.

The Marina comprises 45.000 m2 of hard standing, backed by a 50 m cliff that provides shelter from the occasionally fierce local winds, such as the Sirocco (SE wind, in Greek "Evros"). There is an extensive curved harbor wall, providing complete shelter for the boats afloat. There are floating pontoons with berths for 220 boats and storage ashore for 500 boats.
